

The 38th Chinese Control Conference

Panel Discussion Session Speaker

Jie Huang is now a Choh-Ming Li Professor of Mechanical and Automation Engineering, Chinese University of Hong Kong. His research interests include nonlinear control, robotics and automation, networked control, and guidance and control of flight vehicles. He has authored/coauthored three monographs and some papers. He was IFAC Fellow in 2009, and IEEE Fellow in 2005.

He studied at Fuzhou University (Diploma, 1980), Nanjing University of Science and Technology (Master, 1982), and the Johns Hopkins University (PhD, 1990), respectively.

